Editorial

Hello my darlings,

First of all let's qualify our seventeenth anniversary status. Female Mimics has been around for a lot longer than that. Over twenty years actually, but we began to count the years after we reinvented the magazine some eighteen years ago. Through these years we have had an amazing and wonderful assortment of people pass through our pages. Far too many talented and wonderful people to mention. But let's credit a few. First of all, the most important contributors to the magazine have been you, the readers. I may sound like a broken record here, but I think it's important for us all to remember who really signs our paycheck and for whom the magazine tolls. After that, I would have to say Linda Lee, for all the wonderful words that she's scribed on our pages through the years. She's gone on to greater heights in her theatrical career and has not been able to write for us of late, but we have seen her perform and we know that her god given talents must be followed. Tina Alameda has helped immeasurably with her "new look" art direction and her personal support. Lee S., Millie, Sharon Anne Stuart, Sally, and all the lavishly beautiful "females" that have decorated our pages are to be thanked profusely.

Enough of all that.

Take a gander at the layout from our new video, "F.M.I., Behind the Scenes." We tried to report to you as accurately as possible the hectic goings-on (and off) of a F.M.I. photo shoot. Chi Chi, Rosie and Stevie, our models, were a delight to work with. For this video we tried to avoid the surgical and hormone enhanced "girls" to let you see how some everyday guys get all dressed up. If you look carefully you may even get a glimpse or two of me in here, as I conducted the interview session. I know that many of you would love to see more of me and for that I am grateful. But I have been feeling Garboesque of late, and shall probably stay off-screen until I look a little less like Peggy Lee. Tina, of course, says I don't do myself justice, she says I look more like Shelly Winters, but I'll get the bitch.

You'll find ordering information for this video in the catalog section of the magazine. Other new products to take note of: A Linda Lee anthology of many of her previous columns. This gal has a unique and tasteful vision of the world of the transgendered. Her writing has a variety of information, insights, anecdotes and a great deal of her "self" in it. I recommend her to everyone from novice crossdressers to jaded old drag queens. Also we have the third volume of "True Stories of TVs." It features Robyn from Australia on the cover and is packed full of stories and fantasies from our contributors. A few photos and illustrations here and there as well.

By the way, as long as I have your attention there is something I would love to ask of you. We would like to see more of your artwork here in the magazine. You have all been very generous in donating your photos and writing, but I'm sure that many of you have artistic talent out there and we'd like to see your work. You don't have to draw like Stanton (see page 4), in fact early struggling work has an emotional appeal that is really appealing. Think about it.

One last word here. Remember that when we have fiction and letters of a provocative nature that we are not advocating the practice of unsafe sex. This magazine is primarily a fantasy tool and as such promotes safe sex. There are so many wonderful things that you folks can do out there without exchanging fluids and whatnot. Staying sober and clean is a good first step toward staying responsible in sexual situations. Be sure you find out all the information you need to feel secure in your sex life. I love you all too much to lose any of you to this disease.

Kim Christy*

The Art of STANTON

Along with Gene (Eneg) Bilbrew, Stanton helped form the ideal of a generation or two of devotees. The images of perfect and voluptuous women wreaking cruel havoc on helpless weak men set the tone for the late fifties and early sixties. In this 1963 Selbee Publication we see quintessential examples of his Amazonian women.

The nature of fetish art is to exaggerate the human form to fit the fantasy. Never is this done with more success than in Stanton's disciplined work.

Forgive the crude reproductions, as original work is so hard to find. But we feel the essence of Stanton's work shines through.

Letters to the Editor

If you wish to write to Kim and possibly have your correspondence published, send your letters and photos to Kim Christy, c/o F.M.I., POB 1622, Studio City, CA 91604. All letters and photos received are considered for unconditional publication unless otherwise specified by the sender.

Not The Chasee Anymore!

Hi Kim,

First let me tell you that, your magazine is just great! You, Summer, Margo, Lisa, Kana & Melanee are gorgeous! All my life I've been a ladies' man, attracted to TVs, but I always had to keep inside of me that I too was a TV myself! I had people tell me that I would make a cute girl, but the truth of the matter is their right! My fantasy & dream was to always be a sexy young lady with a little waist, cute ass, nice looking face, and able to turn the men's heads! I also wanted to model or do a naughty picture! Well sometimes dreams can come true, because I do have a little waist, cute looking ass, & an attractive face! I've also got the nerve to go out somewhere when no one would know me! I'm not into bars, so I went to a club! Wouldn't you know it, I had 5 offers from men who asked me out! Kim, I was a little scared because I was always used to being the chaser not the chasee! But that's not dressed in my leather dress, low cut in back, black leather shoes, & fishnet stockings, I also use my own hair curled, I must admit I was looking pretty good! For a novice (and closet-queen) I did OK for myself! But gentleman #6 came up to me & he convinced me to dance with him! Honey let me tell you it was the first time I danced and didn't lead! Before the night was out he invited me to his place, but I already knew what was on his mind! As it turned out he told me that he was always attracted to TVs! I told him that I was flattered and then he kissed me! Well I responded and then the most exciting thing happened to me, out came this 9-inch cock, that looked so delicious I had to eat! Though I'm not totally active as the woman, I did pretty good and in fact, he told me that my pretty face alone was enough to make him cum! I sucked his cock for about 2 hours and he came in my mouth about 3 times! He understood that I wasn't ready to get fucked so we didn't do that, but I would prefer to get fucked by she-males first, before I try my newly found identity with a man! The best thing in life is to be a female, and to all my TV sisters, let's face it, if you're all dolled-up we want the men to look with lust, & the woman to look with delight! We have the best of both worlds! Here is a couple of pictures of me! Maybe use me for something small!

Love you Kim,
Shana

(P.S. I would love to here from, the models, especially Summer, she's a dream & Lisa & Margo, maybe some day with proper training I could look like that!)

Dear Shana,

Darling you are very cute and I'm sure you'll get that cute black ass of yours fucked before you read this letter. I know you want it.

Can we be frank? You have an adorable body and face and you make a sexy girl but I have a suggestion. You might consider shaving your sideburns. It would not deter from your look as a handsome man as you are one of the lucky ones that looks pretty both ways. Also I would recommend for you a straight black shoulder-length wig with bangs that go just below the eyebrow line. Blunt cut all the way around it would be pretty and classy all at once. If you decide to use my suggestion, don't run out and buy a cheap wig. Save some money for a while and invest in something worth while. If you take good care of finer quality wigs they can last forever.

Best,
Kim Christy

Unsealed?

Dear F.M.I. & Kim,

I love the magazine, and Kim — you are gorgeous. I can think of all kinds of exciting and naughty things I'd love to do with you. I'd better not dwell on that too long, I have to go to work. I'm wondering why you ask that forwarded letters be left unsealed? Perhaps you like to look at the pics? I have lots I could send you if you are interested — I am. Right now I'm just a TV, 29, 5'7", 130 lbs. I am thinking of developing my tits, eventually going all the way! Enclosed are some pics for you Kim, and staff. Feel welcome to publish them and this letter if you wish. I'm glad you are here for us Kim and F.M.I.

Love,
JoAnne

Dear JoAnne,

Your pictures are very sexy and we appreciate you sending them. The reason we ask that you send yur letters unsealed for forwarding is to protect the advertisers . . . and because Mother Kim likes a peek or two once and a while. There's nothing that any of you are doing out there that you don't want me to know about is there?

Thanks,
K.C.

JoAnne

Lots of Talent

Dearest Kim!

I respect you the deepest of my mind.

You are the greatest Goddess of every T.V., T.S., female impersonator and drag queens in the world.

You are the dream of all female mimics of this world.

Oh! Let me introduce myself to you.

My name is Rosa Acosta 5'10" 170 lbs and 26 years olds.

I had in drag about 10 years in closet. But this year I was out of in the closet.

Now my dream is to be a one of very famous porn star.

If you pick me up as porn star, I shall do any kind of nasty action that you want.

I have a lots of talent. One of those is 6 degree of black belt of karate.

There is no doubt that make big bucks is making Karate Movie. "Karate She-Male" "Kung-Fu drag queen" so on.

For example,

At midnight one lady walking on the back alley at that time 6-7 guys try to rape her by force but the lady knock them out by her Karate technique. After that open big nasty sex party with all of them.

One lady is sleeping on the bed at night, a few invaders come in her room and try steal something and she awake up and knock them out. She ordered to them play bizarre sex party.

How about that?

Nowday, people want something special. So martial art and sex movie.

It brings to you millions bucks. I am sure that you will hit real big one on the market.

Now I am waiting for your response (soon is better).

I wish you give me your phone number.

Hottest regards,
Rosa Acosta

Dear Rosa,

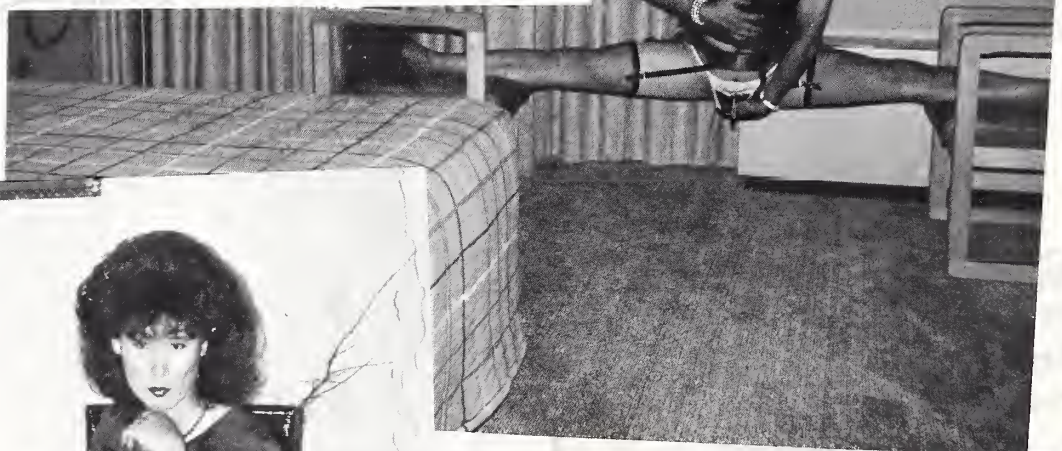

Thanks for the charming letter and the scads of photos. We also liked your concept for a film. You must be wonderfully limber to be able to do those things that we can't really show in the magazine.

Your ideas bring to mind another concept we've been working on, "She-Male Mail Man." With Summer St. Cerly as a surly postal employee. Can't you see her in the uniform with down at heel slippers?

Write again soon, Rosa.

Best,
Kim

Rosa Acosta

Dear Kim Christy,

I have written to you and your magazine before. I answered a couple of your ads in F.M.I. and I have received no reply from the ads or your magazine and I am still a submissive male T.V. awaiting my sex change to come about. But I am sick and tired of being a male. And I am willing to do anything for anybody in order to have my complete sex change operation, etc.

I know it will take a lot from me to become a complete female, but with your contacts in N.Y. I am sure you can put me in contact with an agency that could use me in anyway they want to.

I am willing to undergo any operations that any person can afford. I am willing to leave Alta. and relocate to anywhere in the U.S. in order to become a female in anyway possible.

I hope you can and will help me out. The money and the letters I sent to your company for answers in your magazine are for real, serious and honest.

Because I do need all the help I can get to have a sex change operation and become a female, with hormones and a complete sex change operation, I know I can become a good-looking female, and as a female I would be willing to do anything for the people who could arrange my sex change operations, etc.

I hope with your magazine contacts you can help me out. I hope to hear from your magazine and/or your contacts very soon, and if you could send any answers to the ads I answered please do so. I would do anything for anybody or any persons, etc. to become a complete female.

To hell with with the world I want to become a complete female in every way, and I am willing to do anything of any person or company who can help. Because I am already a female at heart but I need all the operations and hormones to become a complete female, hope you can help me for real. Because I am sick and tired of being a male.

Please enclose the ad I sent to you, and please send the answers and replies to the ads I have sent to your magazine. So I have enclosed my personal ad again, and I hope you will print it and will contact me on any corp. from my ad or the ads I have already answered, etc.

“I always wanted to ‘pass’ in public, just once.”

I hope to hear from you very soon. And to hell with the laws, I want to have a pussy and breasts (female, of course, in everyway). So please send contacts on where I can get female hormones, etc. I am willing to travel to have my sex change operations.

Yours Sincerely,
S Allen

P.S. I want to become the girl of my dreams.

Dear Mr. Allen,

We rarely, if ever, recommend surgery to any of our readers. The decision to become a female, whether socially, or surgically, usually comes from self love and a great deal of self respect. Patience is another quality that there is never enough of for the seekers of a sex change. Going through the legitimate channels of a doctor can be expensive and trying, but it sets a foundation for a successful transformation.

Best,
Kim

No One To Help

Dear Kim,

I am a 35-year-old male who loves to dress like a lady. I have bought several of your fine magazines in the past the have enjoyed all of them.

My problem is I don't have anyone to help me, and to teach me to be the woman I want. I have had several girlfriends but when I told them about my desires they either laughed at me or told me I was crazy, but none would help me. I guess I am destined to be a "closet female" forever.

I enjoy reading your great magazine with all the helpful hints. I can't help but wonder if these beautiful "ladies" started out like I did.

I enjoyed the letter in F.M.I. Volume 17, Number 2 from "Debbie" that has always been a fantasy of mine. I always wanted to "pass" in public just once, I think that would help me decide whether to continue pursuing life as a woman, or not. I have to do it to settle my mind and to heck with everybody else. I want to be one of the "girls" so bad I can't live with myself.

I have purchased lots of clothes for myself over the years (and I must confess, stolen some). I love to get all dressed up when my wife is gone and run around the house. I have to hide all my clothes from her because she doesn't understand and is very unsympathetic to my feelings.

I remember one time when she was gone for the weekend (to her mom's) I got all dressed up in panties and bra and hose, put on a bodysuit and blue jeans (Chic, of course), high heeled boots and a black shoulder-length wig. I did the best I could on my makeup, and went to a little convenience store for a Coke and candy bar. When the young lady saw me and started giggling I knew I didn't pass at all well. I told her that I was in training and that I was very sorry if I offended her. It was so humiliating, I was very embarrassed about being caught, but it was kind of exciting too. Since then I have been out after dark on several walks but I know I still need lots of help from someone who could teach me to be the woman I want.

Love always,
Samantha

Dear Samantha,

Oh god . . . do I know what you mean. Luckily I grew up in a major metropolitan area and I'm not going to think of telling everyone in what small place you live, but dear, if you want to pursue the idea and find out if it's something you really want to have more of in your life, then you have to spend some time with other people in the same field of interest.

There are other groups that meet in major cities. Check out some of the other transvestite mags that have listings. You might want to take some time away from your situation to explore other possibilities.

Good luck!
Kim Christy

Erotica Scribe

Dear Kim,

First may I say that I thoroughly enjoy Female Mimics International and find it entertaining, informative, and inspirational. It has been quite a few years since I was able to enjoy your magazine because I was living in Oklahoma operating a horse training ranch and, for the most part, living as a full-time woman (I'm transsexual and happily establishing myself as a woman in the business world with some success). Unfortunately, F.M.I. is about impossible to find in the "Sooner State." I was quite delighted to find your magazine upon my return to California where I was able to get some recent issues. May I add that I am sorry to see the end of Linda Lee's column. She will be sorely missed as she was an excellent source of information, comfort, and inspiration. I hope you will soon find someone to take up a similar column if possible.

Part of my entrepreneurial activities include my work as a free lance writer and photographer. I enjoy writing "soft-core erotica" and would especially like to cater to the transsexual/transvestite and lesbian communities. I feel that, from time

"I was living in Oklahoma operating a horse ranch . . . "

to time, I might have something to contribute to Female Mimics International, and would like a copy of your writers' and photographers' guidelines at your convenience.

Again, I do enjoy F.M.I. and look forward to hearing from you in the near future and possibly contributing something to its pages on occasion.

Sincerely,
Victoria Lynn Neil

Dear Victoria,

What a colorful background you have.

I miss Linda Lee as well but I'm not sure that we will ever hear from her again. We have tried to include her socially-conscious attitudes and her intellectual curiosity in other aspects of the magazine. After all, we don't want to be the Tiger Beat of TV mags, do we?

As for writers' and contributors' guidelines, it's very simple. We are largely a reader donated publication. Most of our budget goes into the enormous costs of printing. We can only afford then, to accept reader contributions without remuneration. Our readers have graciously understood our limited financial capacity and have always provided us with a lively selection of work to choose from. In other words, we can't afford to buy anything.

Thanks so much for thinking of us and we hope to hear more from you.

Sincerely,
Kim

Panty-Clad TVs

Dear Kim,

I just received a copy of F.M.I. #42, the "Girls" in the California Continental Pageant look terrific. It's a fantastic layout.

I also liked the letter from "L.S." I wholeheartedly agree with "her?" views on movie/video-making. I'd love to see some beautiful transvestites in various stages of undress. (I've enclosed some photos of myself to give you an example of what I mean.) Most of us TVs love lingerie — It would be your best magazine layout if you were to show some panty-clad

Linda

TVs!! I know you're opposed to showing male genitalia — but maybe the outline of "it" in a pair of panties wouldn't offend too many readers.

Keep up the great work on the videos too. L.S.'s idea about a Blue Velvet Peeping Tom is a great idea . . . back to a transvestite in her lingerie. (Don't you just hate getting all this advice . . . ?)

You're the best!

Aloha,
Linda

P.S. I'm on the verge of meeting some other beautiful queens thanks to your ad section!

Dear Linda,

No, I don't hate getting all this advice. I freely admit that my best ideas come from the responses to the magazine. After all if I didn't respond to the readers then I'd be doing this all for naught.

By the way, you have a dynamite body that I'm sure is as entertaining in lingerie as it is in jockey shorts.

Still looking,
Kim

Beautiful Freaks

Dear Ms. Christy,

Trust that the folks at Pleasuremart were able to forward this shameless fanmail & that it finds all well with you.

Since the days of Jaded Jennifer, your films have always amazed, mesmerized & aroused me — just wanted to say: thanks for being there! The gender-bending dreams of the 60s are realized in your she-male images of the 80s. Your scenarios are seductive, even subversive; your stars are often truly beautiful freaks, lettin' it all hang out & having fun. Please understand that to me a freak is somebody blessed with a great gift — the power to set us all free, the presence to blast us into the fantastic. A mixed blessing, to be sure: show biz or shame, it may hinge on a performer's courage to enjoy & enlighten. Maybe it's your wickedly zany concepts (the reformatory or wrestling — have mercy!) that make it all work so delightfully. Regardless, you & your friends have opened a lot of doors: there are more than two sexes, freak can be beautiful & let the good times roll . . .

May I take a fan's liberty & suggest a concept? This one is closest to my heart: the she-male amputee. You flirted with this in the gloriously sleazy Squalor Motel & I can hardly wait to see if you'll actually do it. Just imagine Jeanne Silver as a she-male. Or that you discover a lovely she-male who has taken body-modification all the way to become a voluntary amputee. I believe that this lady exists & pray that you can find her.

Beyond Nugget, beyond Fetish Times — Kim Christy presents . . . Thanks for hearing me out. Wishing you all the best, and awaiting your next thrilling adventure, I remain —

Respectfully yours,
Jake

Dear Jake,

I wouldn't mind at all if you sent a letter a month like this one to me. I LOVE praise.

I like your concept. I've always had a desire to do more with the handicapped of all varieties in my work. I think that if we saw more handicapped people in high profile places that the stigma we feel about it would be relieved. In working with amputees, the hardest part is to sexualize the situation without exploiting the people. It's a very fine line. Some would say that what we do is exploitative by nature and they may have something. We chose to show pictures of Morelle De Keigh, for instance because of her gift of beauty. Are we exploiting her? Hard to say. Is Christy Brinkley being exploited? Hard to say. But because an amputee is considered to have a pitiful condition by most standards, then if we were to exploit her "gifts" we might be considered to be heartless. The fact is an amputee is missing a limb. This is not a value judgement. Some people are turned on by the aesthetics of missing limbs. Shouldn't these two groups get together without the moralizers saying there is a victim? .

Thanks for giving me the opportunity to speak out.

Best wishes,
Kim Christy

Early Steps

Dear Kim:

I have been reading F.M.I. for quite some time. I have them back to F.M.I. issue #22 and I really enjoy them.

Let me tell you a little about myself. I have been dressing as a woman ever since I was about 6 years old. I use to go into my sister's room and get a pair of her panties and would go into my mother's room and get a girdle and pair of nylon stockings and would go into my bedroom and put them on. This I did until I was in my own apartment and I then had my own women's clothes. I would get dressed as a woman whenever I had the chance.

Right now, I wear panty hose and panties just about all the time and am considering wearing a brassiere all the time. After the first of the year, I am going to go on estrogen hormones. This is the early steps toward undergoing a sex-change, which I really and truly want, to be a "woman."

All your pictures are real nice and you do have a very nice figure.

Please send me a picture of you. As soon as I get some taken of me, I will send you one.

Lots of love,
Deborah Kaye

Sally and Her Friends

I was telling my dear friend Melissa about a strange turn of events when I was sent to visit my Aunt as a teenager

Mother looked up from her plate during lunch, looked over at my sister Barbara and said, "I wish you'd let me know when you want to borrow something, and I like things put back the way they were." My ears started to burn. Barbara said, "What are you talking about, Mother? I haven't borrowed anything of yours." I knew my face was turning crimson, and then Mother said, "Robert, what is the matter with you. Your face is as red as a beet." I told her the soup was too hot. "Well, don't eat so fast." Then she dropped the issue with Barbara who gave me a funny look. As I was going out the door she said, "Better put things back where you find them Bobbie, and stay away from my things." I told her I didn't know what she meant, but she just smiled.

I had been wearing both their clothes for years when no one was around. I just couldn't resist slipping into those sexy nylons and panties, and trying on those pretty dresses, but after the table conversation I thought I had better lay off for awhile. But two days later I was back at the task of trying to look as much like a girl as I could, and I was getting better all the time. But on this occasion I got caught. Sis came home early from work with a cold, and there I was in her best dress, lingerie, nylons and heels, wearing makeup and with a ribbon in my longish hair.

She just about fainted when she saw me, and I just about died, and for a moment that seemed like an hour we just stared at each other. "I can't believe this. My little brother or should I say sister dressed in my clothes. I knew you were a "fairy" all the time. And I'm the one that gets blamed for borrowing Mother's clothes. Well, Bobbie or Betty or whatever your name is, you've had it!"

I begged her not to tell as I disrobed. I couldn't get out of her things fast enough, but my pleading didn't seem to be working. Later that afternoon I heard my sister and mother talking in the kitchen and Sis was saying, "Well, what are we going to do about him. Daddy will kill him if he ever finds out, and we don't know if it's a passing thing or not." Mother said, "I don't know what to do. I can't believe what you're saying about him. Are you sure he's been wearing our clothes? I just can't believe it." "Well, it's true and I have an idea. Summer vacation at school is coming up. Why don't we send Robert to visit Aunt Janet. If anyone can find out about Robert she can, and Father would be out of the picture." Mother said, "I don't know, maybe Janet could help. She's single and a little more up on things. Maybe she could learn whether he wants to be a girl or a boy." I was stunned listening to it all. I didn't think I wanted to be a girl. I just liked to wear their clothes. Just for fun.

But it didn't matter. When school ended, I was shuffled off to Aunt Janet's. Auntie was very pretty and much younger than Mother, and I had always liked her, and when I arrived she made me feel right at home, and settled me in her spare bedroom, and was very nice to me.

Later one evening she asked if I would help her with her sewing. I didn't think anything about it and said, "Sure." She said she had to have a dress and would I mind putting it on and standing on a chair for her. I felt a little strange wearing a dress in front of someone, but I did as she asked. As she worked, she looked up at me and said, "You know dear, you make a very pretty girl. Sometime I'd like to dress you all up and see how you'd look. Would you like that. It would be just for fun." I told her I didn't know. I guessed it would be alright if nobody else saw me. She said, "Good, we'll just stay home if you like."

A couple of days later I returned from a movie and there on my bed was such an array of beautiful feminine things, I couldn't believe it. A pretty dress, sweater and skirt, slip, bra, panties, girdle, nylons, bobby sox, and on the floor new penny loafers and a pair of heels. Then Auntie came in and said, "Well, honey, how do you like your pretty new clothes.” “Auntie, who’s going to pay for all this? There’s just too much.” I was in a daze. “Never you mind. Let’s see what this pretty dress looks like on you. Do you want me to stay and help or can you manage?” I told her I thought that I could manage and she gave me a little smile. “Tell me when you’re ready Bobbie, and I’ll help you with makeup.” As young and naive as I was I felt something was very wrong here. What was I getting into? I wasn’t supposed to dress like a girl in front of my aunt. And all these clothes. It didn’t look like “just for fun” to me. But I just couldn’t help myself as I fondled the slip and panties and held the dress up to me.

“OK Auntie, you can come in.” And there I stood in dress, lingerie, nylons and heels. “Do, do I look alright?” “Bobbie, you look lovely. Let’s get some makeup on you.” And when she was finished I looked just like a girl. “Honey, I had to guess, but everything fits you perfectly and you do look so feminine and sweet. How do you like the way you look?” I was thrilled beyond words, but said, “OK, I guess.” “Why, you’re the cutest little thing I’ve ever seen. Wait until the boys get a look at you!” “But, Auntie, you said I wouldn’t have to go out dressed like this.” “Bobbie, that’s entirely up to you, but you shouldn’t hide your lovely appearance under a bushel basket.”

I was in heaven, actually, dressed as a girl from head to toe with my aunt helping me to look and act feminine. That night I had pink nylon baby dolls to sleep in and the next day I wore a sweater and skirt. All day long! Then Auntie asked if I wanted to put on my pretty dress and go to the movies with her with a reminder that I would really be inside. I told her I might like it. She smiled and helped me to get ready. I couldn’t wait to see if any boys would look at me. I didn’t have long to wait. As I was standing alone waiting for Auntie to get the tickets a boy came up to me and asked if I was alone. I said, “No, my aunt is with me.” “Too bad, I’d love to sit in the balcony with you, how about a number where I can reach you,” but then Auntie came along and scared him away. After the movie she asked me how I felt and I could hardly describe it.

*“Why you’re the cutest little thing
I’ve ever seen.”*

The next day she asked me if I would like to go shopping with her. I had already forgotten about just wearing girls’ clothes inside and said, “That would be fine.” And after we got ready she asked me what name I would like when dressed as a girl. She caught me by surprise, and I blushed as I said, “Sally.”

We went to one of the big downtown department stores, and as we were going up the escalator to lingerie two boys were right behind us talking and laughing and I whispered to Auntie, “What are those awful boys doing.” “Just looking at your legs dear, and probably trying to look up your skirt.” I turned red and said, “Oh, how awful.” “No, honey, they’re just being boys, but I guess you wouldn’t know about that,” and she gave me a knowing look.

I just couldn’t get enough of the sexy panties, slips, garter belts, bras and all of the lovely lingerie. I wanted to stay there forever and try on everything, but Auntie finally pulled me away to junior dresses after several slinky purchases and I told her I had never been so happy. She bought me two cute dresses and then we went to ladies’ shoes, where a young man fitted me with heels. I just loved it when he took my nylon-clad ankle in his hand. Thrills went through me, and I wondered how it would be to have his hand feeling my silken leg clear up to my panties. It was such a joy to be a girl, and I decided to tell Auntie just how much I wanted to be one when she got me home.

When I told her how I felt, she explained to me why I was with her. That Mother had sent me to her to get my true feelings, and then we could all decide what was needed to be done, and what was best for me. “Now that we know you would like to be a little girl dear, I’ll have to phone your parents and let them know that.” I had been having so much fun pretending I hadn’t even thought of my parents. “Oh, Auntie, you can’t tell them. I would die if my father ever found out. Please, can’t I stay with you and visit you and be a girl and then be a boy at home?” “No, honey, you have to be one or the other and it’s apparent which one you want to be.”

The next day she phoned Mother and told her I was happier being a girl and that I was now living with her as Sally. I couldn’t hear what Mother said, but it was decided that I would return home after summer vacation and join the family. I begged her not to make me do that. How could I face my mother and sister and most of all my father with my hair down to my shoulders and wearing a dress. But Auntie told me not to worry I would still have several weeks with her, and after that time I would feel much more comfortable as a young lady. She said I still had a lot to learn.

She was right, as the days went by I became much more feminine and I knew I would never want to be a boy again.

The Two Sides of Shalei Latrelle

Some of you will remember Shalei from a few years back. She must have made a great impression, for although we have not displayed photos of her for over five years, you still send us letters mentioning her or asking to see more of her. Unfortunately we've lost touch with Shalei, but if we know her nature she is probably off in a secluded mountain resort with a treasured companion. For the fact is that Shalei was always two very different people. On the one hand she was a vivacious and lively performer and on the other she was a private and thoughtful individual, often contemplative and secluded. Here we show photographs representing both sides of her rich life.

Shalei doesn't mind living full-time as a passable woman. Many people in "the life" want the freedom to be able to pick and choose when they appear in what gender. Shalei, in her devotion to her beauty made choices along the way that prevent her from dressing convincingly as a man. But she does not mind. One has to be more discreet in finding health care professionals and of course a public health club is out of the question. But she gets all the exercise she needs dancing. And the doctor who consults in her gender issues is a general practitioner as well. It is a carefully made choice but not one without it's limitations. Shalei wouldn't have it any other way.

ARE YOU MALE, HETEROSEXUAL, submissive, and interested in crossdressing? Does the thought of being forced to wear feminine clothing all of the time absolutely thrill you? Do you like the idea of being dressed in skirts and trained to mimic female speech and behavior? Do you dream of becoming totally feminized, in mind as well as body, without actually having a sex change operation? Would you give up the life and privileges of a man to become the obedient, pampered, crossdressed male wife in a marriage to a dominant, aggressive female husband? Do you know the meaning of phrases like — "petticoat punishment" — "corset discipline" — "forced femininity" — "sissy"? How would you feel if you had to dress completely as a female in every detail and appear in public before men and women who knew that you were really a man? Would you feel silly and foolish if you were made to wear a sanitary napkin in your panties? Do words like girdle, garter belt, nylons, high heels, lipstick and lingerie make you blush? If you find these questions interesting write and ask for a free copy of The Sissy Times newsletter. SASE required. See illustration. F572

Sissy Stanley Dresses Up

BY SHARON ANN STUART

This piece of fiction is from Sharon's fabulous publication The Sissy Times. For information about the Sissy Times, please use this address: Stuart Publishing Co., Dept. HB, POB 870, Oneonta, NY 13820. Do not address anything to Sissy Times.

Helen Hemphill looked at the wrinkles in her silk blouse and shook her head in disgust. The blouse had come back from the drycleaners two days before and already it was wrinkled and soiled and Helen had not even had an opportunity to wear it.

Someone else had worn Helen's blouse, however, and Helen had a good idea who the culprit was. Only one other person lived in the same house.

Taking the blouse with her Helen went downstairs where the sound of a violin playing scales could be heard coming from the living room. Helen waited in the doorway until her son, Stanley, had completed a passage and paused to rest before she interrupted his rehearsal.

"Stanley, I need to talk with you," she began.

"Yes mother," the boy replied turning around to face her.

"I want you to look at this blouse," Helen said, holding up the garment in front of her. "Someone took it out of my closet where it was hanging in a plastic bag and wore it. Now it is all wrinkled and dirty and I will have to send it right back to the drycleaners. And I need it to wear with my blue skirt. Now who would do that?"

Helen's speech was more of an accusation than an inquiry.

"I'm sorry, mother," Stanley replied, hanging his head. "I was wearing it. I didn't think you would mind."

Stanley was so innocent, so honest and straightforward about it that Helen found it difficult to get really angry with him.

"Well I do mind and you should not have touched my blouse, Stanley. How many times have I told you not to play around with my clothes. You are practically grown up and will be going off to college in a year. If you were a little boy I might understand. It was cute when you were five years old to see you playing dress-up with your little friends — but you are seventeen years old now and it is time for you to stop such nonsense."

"I'm sorry, mother," Stanley mumbled abjectly. Stanley was genuinely embarrassed to hear his mother talk to him this way.

"Now I want you to promise me that it won't happen again. And, if it does, I'm going to have to punish you severely."

Stanley humbly promised to refrain from wearing his mother's clothing and resumed his violin playing.

Oh, how many times Stanley had made such promises to his mother only to turn right around and break them. Stanley knew it was impossible for him to keep any promises where his mother's clothing was concerned. He had been playing with his mother's wardrobe since he was an infant. Over the years he had repeatedly dressed himself up in his mother's attire and sought every opportunity to do so. Now that he was seventeen Stanley just couldn't stop doing something he loved so dearly.

And so, three days later, on a Saturday morning when Helen was out shopping for groceries, Stanley came home early from his violin lesson and went directly to his mother's bedroom. Without hesitating he removed his own clothing and began to dress himself up in his mother's things.

To begin with Stanley put on a pair of his mother's stretch lace panties. They fit him so very snugly. Stanley relished the feeling of the smooth fabric stretched so tautly around his buttocks. Whenever he put a pair of panties on Stanley's male thing was apt to swell up with excitement and today was no exception.

Next, Stanley found one of his mother's panty girdles and pulled it up his legs and wriggled it over his derriere. The white spandex girdle was decorated with shiny panels of satiny material on the sides and over the tummy. And, there were two inches of stretchy lace at the hems of either leg. Stanley loved wearing his mother's girdles and the older he got the tighter they became on him.

In the top drawer of the dresser Stanley found a box of nylon hosiery. He carefully removed a new pair of sheer stockings from the thin box. Sitting down on the side of his mother's bed Stanley drew the stockings up his legs and hitched them to the garters. Stanley then went over to the mirror and stood there looking at his girdled torso and nylon-sheathed legs. Oh, how sleek he looked and how shapely his legs were in the fine stockings.

Next, Stanley retrieved a pair of his mother's high-heeled pumps from the shoe rack in the walk-in closet and squeezed his feet into them. He could still wear his mother's shoes but he knew it was going to be a problem if his feet grew any more. The shoes were brand new black patent spectator pumps with three inch high heels and a closed, pointed toe. Putting high-heeled shoes on his feet always made Stanley start to feel like he was a girl.

Stanley hooked himself into a brassiere and filled out the cups with wads of old hose his mother kept in a bottom drawer of the dresser. Then Stanley picked out one of his mother's dress slips and pulled it down over his head and into place. He adjusted the shoulder straps and spent several minutes molding his false breasts with his hands to get just the right look under the slip's bodice.

Stanley took a few minutes to walk around the room and down the upstairs hallway. Sometimes his mother would walk around the house that way before she decided what dress to wear. Stanley liked hearing the soft rustling sound that the slip made as it brushed against his girdle when he walked. He liked to stand in front of the mirror in his slip and feel the soft fabric draped over his girdled posterior. He would pose himself, this way, then that way. He would turn around and look back over his shoulder to see how he looked from that angle.

When Stanley finally tore himself away from the mirror he went back into the walk-in closet where his mother's dresses and separates were hung in neat rows. After trying on several garments Stanley decided to wear a softly pleated white dacron-silk blend skirt, a pastel blue short sleeve sweater with a white flower design and a black leather belt cinched tightly at the waist.

When Stanley had finished dressing himself in this ensemble he went to his mother's jewel box and found a pair of pearl earrings which he clipped on and a matching necklace which he managed to hook around his neck after several tries.

Stanley heard the grandfather clock chiming in the foyer downstairs and each chime should have handbags to carry.

He thought it was such fun to go about clutching a handbag the way
women always did.”

been a warning to him. Stanley should have realized that his mother was due home any moment. But he was oblivious to the time and the risk of being caught in his mother's clothes. Stanley was too absorbed in his female persona to care about the time or the consequences of being discovered.

Stanley had been caught many times. And his mother had punished him for his behavior many times. But, Mrs. Hemphill had never used physical punishment before. She didn't believe in spanking children. Instead, whenever she caught Stanley playing with her clothing, she would scold him and try to shame him. Lately she had been putting him on restriction after school and on the weekends as a punishment.

Or she might take the car keys away from him and not allow him to drive anywhere for a week. Stanley always accepted these punishments as his due but inevitably he would take the next opportunity to dress up in female attire.

Stanley went into his mother's bathroom and began to make up his face with her cosmetics. Stanley was not that experienced when it came to putting on make-up but he was learning fast. He loved to put on bright lipstick and use mascara to darken his eyelashes. Today Stanley took extra time with his eyes and used a pencil to outline the lids and light blue eyeshadow to highlight them. He also used an eyebrow pencil to darken and shape his brows in a more feminine style. He patted liquid base make-up all over his face as he had seen his mother do and used pressed powder to set it in a matte finish. Then he brushed his cheeks with a pink blusher.

When his face was made up Stanley tried to arrange his hair in a more feminine style. He combed his bangs down over his eyes and changed the part in his hair to the other side to get more fullness. He was very disappointed in the result but it would have to do. Stanley's mother did not own or wear wigs.

Stanley went back into his mother's bedroom and found a headscarf which he tied over his head babushka-style as though he were about to go outside on a windy day. It was a poor substitute for a wig but it helped somewhat to create the illusion.

Stanley also took one of his mother's handbags to carry. He thought it was such fun to go about clutching a handbag the way ladies always did.

At last Stanley was ready. But there was nowhere to go except to take a high-heeled walk around the house. He didn't dare go outside. But, it was fun to pretend that you were going somewhere all dressed up. Sometimes Stanley would even put on one of his mother's coats and walk around the house.

Stanley went downstairs and walked through every room. It was fun to listen to the clicking sound his high-heels made when he walked across the wooden floors in certain rooms. Another thrill was the feeling he got when he walked up and down the stairs. Often he would stop in front of a chair and sit down for a few moments. Then he would get up and continue on his way.

What pleased Stanley the most, however, was the sight of himself completely dressed and made up as a girl. There were seven mirrors in the house in various rooms and Stanley paid a visit to each one and paid proper homage to his feminized appearance.

The mirror in the downstairs hallway was Stanley's favorite. It was a large mirror and you could see yourself for quite a distance as you walked up and down that hallway. Better yet, if you opened the hall closet door to a certain angle you could see your own reflection from the rear because there was also a mirror on the inside of the closet door.

Stanley loved to watch himself walking down that hallway. Another favorite trick was stopping in just the right spot to adjust your stockings. This meant hiking up your skirt and slip and fiddling with a garter. Stanley had seen his mother perform this maneuver more than once and could mimic it perfectly. And all the while he was fiddling with the garter he would sneak glances at his skirted derrier from behind.

As he went about the house Stanley delighted in the different sensations that came to him as he mimicked a girl. He loved the way the pleated skirt rippled around his girdled thighs and swung out as he walked. He loved to watch his own feet stepping out beneath the skirt, shod in pointy-toed high-heeled pumps. If he sat down for a moment somewhere he could run his hands over his nylon-clad legs of play with the hem of his skirt. Underneath there was always the constricting embrace of the girdle.

The sight of his ample false breasts jutting out proudly in front furnished another thrill. And the idea that he was wearing make-up just like any lady was especially stimulating. It was fun to stop in front of a mirror and take out your lipstick to freshen up your lips with a new coat of color or gloss.

Stanley enjoyed all of these sensations that day. Seldom had he felt more feminine and more natural in his skirts than he did on this occasion. How he wished he had been born a girl instead of a boy.

pleasure at the

the hall mirror.

Had anyone else been in the house that afternoon they might have heard Stanley talking to himself.

“Ooooo,” he moaned with pleasure at the sight of himself in the downstairs hall mirror. “You look so neat.” And he turned around quickly just to make his skirt swirl about.

“I just love that sweater,” he cooed to his reflection.

“Oh, thank you, darling, but it belongs to my mother,” came the response to his own compliment.

“I think I’d like a glass of water,” Stanley informed his reflection.

And with that he turned on his high heels and minced off to the kitchen.

While Stanley was drinking his glass of water Mrs. Hemphill returned home. So absorbed was Stanley in his female attire and thoughts that he didn’t even hear her drive up and get out of the car. She was in the back door and standing right in the kitchen before Stanley realized he had been caught at his game redhanded.

“Oh Stanley, what are you doing?” Mrs. Hemphill cried out plaintively when she saw how he was dressed.

All Stanley could do was hang his head in shame and slump against the kitchen counter. His bubble had burst. He always felt helpless in his mother’s presence when she caught him this way. It was so embarrassing!

Mrs. Hemphill put her parcels down and took Stanley by the hand.

“I want you to come with me young man,” she said quietly. “We are going to have a very serious talk about this right now.”

And she led Stanley straight up to her bedroom and made him sit down on the side of her bed while she stood over him with her arms folded. She didn’t say anything for a few moments. Tears began to well up in Stanley’s eyes.

“I really don’t know what I am going to do with you, Stanley. The very idea of a grown-up, seventeen-year-old boy getting dressed up in his mother’s clothes! Just look at you!”

Helen reached out and pushed the scarf back over his hair and then, taking him by the chin with her hand, forced him to look up and into her eyes.

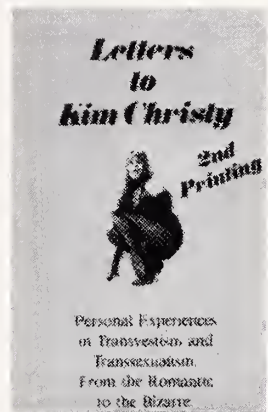

“What would your father say about this if he were alive — his only son wearing lipstick and mascara and all dressed up like a girl?”

Stanley began to cry softly at the thought of his father who had died in a car accident when Stanley was six years old.

“And what would your school friends say if they could see you sitting here wearing a bra and heaven knows what else you’ve got on?”

Sissy Stanley

Stanley made no reply except to turn his face away in shame and continue to cry in a manner not unlike that of a girl.

"I sent you to a boys' high school thinking it would help you grow out of your childish habits. I hoped that you would take more interest in sports but it sure hasn't worked out, has it?" Helen mused.

"Instead of going out to play baseball and football with your friends you come home and get dressed up in you mother's clothes and go parading around the house. Aren't you ashamed of yourself? How can you be such a sissy?"

At this jibe Stanley collapsed on the bed and hid his face in a pillow and continued to sob like a girl.

"I told you last time that I would punish you if you did this again. You never keep your promises to me and everytime I catch you, it's the same story. Sooner or later you break your promise and go behind my back. Don't tell me that you don't. I can tell when my clothes have been disturbed."

There was no response from Stanley except the muffled sound of his sobbing in the pillow.

"Well, are you going to talk to me and explain yourself? Or, are you just going to lie there and cry like a baby?"

Helen was taunting him now and it made Stanley feel worse. But the more he cried the angrier his mother seemed to become.

"I guess I'm so fed up with you that I'm just about ready to give you a good paddling. Maybe that will teach you a lesson," Helen told him.

And she took a hand mirror that was on the dresser and impulsively went over to the bed. She pushed Stanley over on his stomach and lifted his legs up on the bed as well. His face was still buried in the pillow and he offered no resistance. Stanley had not heard his mother's last statement clearly and was unaware for the moment what was about to happen.

Mrs. Hemphill threw up the hem of the pleated skirt exposing Stanley's slip-covered and panty-girdled posterior. She took aim with the back of the hand mirror which was covered with hard plastic and brought it down hard on his backside. There was a resounding smack and Stanley let out an involuntary shriek of surprise.

With the first blow it was more the noise than the sting that got Stanley's attention. However, as the spanking proceeded Stanley's sobbing subsided and gave way to cries of pain as his mother warmed his bottom with the improvised paddle.

It was the first time in Stanley's life that his mother had spanked him and the experience was all the more humiliating because of the circumstances and the way he was dressed.

The truth is that Stanley could have gotten up off the bed easily and put a quick stop to his mother's abuse of his backside. But for reasons known only to sissy transvestites he chose to lie there and take his medicine, not like a man certainly, but much like a sissy. He clenched his fists and kept his face in the pillow and let his mother paddle his girdled bottom. He whimpered and shrieked and cried all at once. He didn't even try to protect himself with his hands. Stanley knew he deserved to be spanked.

Helen Hemphill hit Stanley with the back of the hand mirror at least twenty-five times before the glass cracked and then she stopped out of concern that the mirror might shatter.

She put the mirror down and waited for him to regain some of his composure.

"All right," Helen said when Stanley's sobs had died down, "I want you to get up off that bed, young man, and go into the bathroom and remove my clothing."

Helen helped him off the bed and sent him scurrying off to the bathroom. When Stanley reappeared an hour later dressed in male clothing Helen made him rinse out the panties, the girdle, the nylons, the bra and the slip he had worn. Then she made him take them outside and hang them on the clothesline in the backyard to dry.

When he came back inside Helen had another long talk with Stanley. She put him on restriction for four months, took away his car keys indefinitely and reduced his weekly allowance to $2.00. She also told him that he would have to go and see a psychiatrist if he was ever caught again wearing female clothing.

Stanley was very ashamed of himself and had little to say in reply. Most of all the idea of going to see a psychiatrist frightened him and for a time he resolved to abstain from dressing up in female clothing. But, two weeks later, he took a pair of his mother's panties from the clothes hamper in the bathroom and wore them to bed.

As Stanley lay in bed stroking himself to fulfillment through the soft, silky fabric the image in his mind's eye was that of himself lying on his mother's bed in full female regalia being spanked unmercifully on his girdled derriere. How humiliated he had been at the time. How bizarre it was not that he found it exciting to fantasize about being spanked while dressed in female attire. Stanley had tasted the rare essence of submission when his mother spanked him and had become at once a confirmed sissy.

Stanley was a great deal more careful about playing with his mother's clothing after that. He went to great lengths to conceal his dressing-up activities. So successful was he in his clandestine crossdressing that Stanley's mother was half convinced that she had finally cured him. In fact, it was just the opposite. Stanley yearned more than ever to adorn himself in female attire and pretend he was a girl.
